

Autumn Myers is an MBA-trained entrepreneur, business strategist, and operations leader with more than 13 years of experience in management, financial oversight, and business development. As the founder of Texas Medical Transit, she is focused on improving healthcare logistics through reliable, compliant transportation solutions that support medical providers and their patients.

Before launching her healthcare logistics company, Autumn successfully owned and operated a service-based business while building expertise in strategic planning, budgeting, customer experience, and operational excellence. She also spent eight years in Student Financial Services management, where she led teams, managed budgets, and implemented process improvements that enhanced organizational performance.

In 2018, Autumn was diagnosed with Stage II metastatic breast cancer. After treatment, she entered remission in 2019 and has since become a passionate advocate for breast cancer awareness, survivorship, and faith-based community support. She has been a member of Angels Surviving Cancer since 2019 and has actively served with the Mosaic Women's Ministry and the Breast Cancer Survivor Ministry since 2021, encouraging and supporting women navigating their own cancer journeys.

Autumn is passionate about helping organizations grow through thoughtful leadership, strategic planning, and sound governance. She brings an entrepreneurial perspective, a collaborative leadership style, and a deep commitment to serving her community through innovation, accountability, compassion, and mission-driven decision-making.
